BIG SIX WHEEL

In this thrilling version of the classic "Crown & Anchor" wheel game, players place bets on the turn of a large wheel. The Big Six wheels have equally spaced sections. You place your bets on a specially marked table; the dealer will assist you if you cannot reach your chosen betting position on the table. In all cases, you are responsible for ensuring that the wager is correctly placed. The Dealer then declares, "No more bets" and spins the Big Six wheel. The wheel must complete at least three revolutions to be a valid spin. If the indicator stops between two numbers, the winning number will be the previous number passed, not the oncoming number. Once a valid spin is completed, the dealer announces the winning section on the wheel, collects the losing wagers and pays out the winning wagers according to the payout schedule shown below.
